Phrasal Verbs:* "FILL OUT"

Hamad: Hi. My name is Hamad, and this [he turns to other person] is Salamah. We're going to teach you about the phrasal verb "fill out".

Salamah: Hamad, what do you mean by "fill out"?

Hamad: It means, to complete a form or an application.

Salamah: Where can you use "fill out"?

Hamad: I can use it everywhere to complete a form or application, for example, at a bank, at a college, or on the Internet.

Salamah: Does "fill out" mean the same as "fill in"?

Hamad: Oh, good question! No, it does not!

Salamah: Why not? What's the difference?

Hamad: Well, "fill out" means to answer ALL the questions on the whole form, but "fill in" means just to answer ONE question or write something in one blank on a form or application.

Salamah: Oh, now I understand. By the way, does "fill out" have another meaning?

Hamad: Yes, it does, but that meaning is not very common, so we won't be teaching it today. You'll have to look in your phrasal verbs dictionary for that!

Salamah: Thanks, Hamad!

Hamad: You're welcome, Salamah.
