Nyamdorj: Hi Ahmad. How are you?

Ahmad: I'm fine. How about you?

Nyamdorj: I'm okay, but today I screwed up.

Ahmad: I don't understand. What's the meaning of screw up?

Nyamdorj: The meaning is to make a mistake.

Ahmad: Oh, I see. So, what mistake did you make today?

Nyamdorj: I forgot to pay some bills. Today was the last day!

Ahmad: Oh no, I hope they don't turn off your electricity!

Nyamdorj: Me too!

Ahmad: By the way, how do people usually use this expression, "screw up"?

Nyamdorj: Well, they use it a lot at work, when somebody does something wrong. Also, husbands have to say it a lot to their wives: "I'm sorry, honey. I screwed again!"

Ahmad: That's funny! I think that's the same in every culture!

Nyamdorj: That's true (laughing)

Ahmad: (To camera) We hope you enjoyed our lesson.

Both: (Wave) Bye...
